We welcome Jeffrey E. Rosen, M.D.

as Chairman, Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation.

A higher level of surgical care. Right here in Queens.

Expertise you trust. Service you deserve.

New York Hospital Queens is pleased to introduce Jeffrey E. Rosen, M.D., Chairman, Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation. He will focus on furthering New York Hospital Queens' goal of addressing orthopaedic care for the entire Queens community, ranging from physically-challenged children to professional athletes to grandparents.

Board-certified in orthopaedic surgery, Dr. Rosen specializes in arthroscopic and minimally-invasive knee surgery, shoulder surgery and sports medicine. Prior to joining New York Hospital Queens, Dr. Rosen was Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at New York University (NYU) School of Medicine and Director of Adolescent Sports Medicine at the NYU Hospital for Joint Diseases Center for Children. He was also Assistant Professor of Clinical Orthopaedic Surgery at the NYU Hospital for Joint Diseases and attending physician within Bellevue Hospital Center's orthopaedic trauma and sports medicine service, as well as Director of medical student education programs at NYU Medical Center and the NYU Hospital for Joint Diseases.

A graduate of University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Rosen earned his medical degree at Columbia University College of Physicians & Surgeons in New York. His postgraduate training includes an internship in general surgery at NYU School of Medicine and a residency in orthopaedic surgery at the NYU Hospital for Joint Diseases. He also completed a fellowship in sports medicine at the world-renowned Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic in Los Angeles, California.

If you'd like to meet Dr. Rosen and discuss a case, please call him at
