We welcome George J. Juang, M.D.

as Director, Cardiac Electrophysiology Laboratory.

Enhancing the delivery of technology, techniques and treatments to Queens.

Following the recent announcement of Chong H. Park, M.D., as Director, Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory at our Heart & Vascular Center, New York Hospital Queens is pleased to introduce George J. Juang, M.D., Director, Cardiac Electrophysiology Laboratory.

Triple board-certified in internal medicine, cardiovascular disease and clinical cardiac electrophysiology, Dr. Juang joined New York Hospital Queens from Winthrop University in Mineola, New York where he was the Assistant and Associate Director of Electrophysiology.

A graduate of Harvard College, Dr. Juang earned his medical degree from The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. He completed his internal medicine internship and residency at Ronald Reagan UCLA Medical Center. Subsequently, he completed fellowships in cardiology and cardiac electrophysiology at The Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland.

If you would like to meet and discuss a case with Dr. Juang, please call him at 718-670-2087.

A higher level of heart care. Right here in Queens.

New York Hospital Queens

56-45 Main Street Flushing, New York 11355

nyhq.org

