The Department of Surgery of New York Hospital Queens continues to expand its clinical leadership team, providing greater access to the latest minimally invasive techniques and technologies to physicians who refer or treat their most complex patient cases here. Litong Du, M.D., Ph.D. is a core member of this team.

Board certified in General Surgery, Dr. Du joined CRT Surgical Associates, the surgical services group at NYHQ, after completing a fellowship here in minimally invasive surgery. As an attending surgeon, he focuses on both general surgery and laparoscopic/minimally invasive surgery. He specializes in gastrointestinal pathologies, including gastric and colon cancers.

Prior to coming to NYHQ, he was Chief Resident, Department of Surgery, at SUNY Downstate Medical Center and Chief Resident of Cardiac Surgery, Beijing Anzhen Hospital, Capital University of Medical Sciences in China. He was also a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow at the Brander Cancer Research Institute in Hawthorne, New York. Dr. Du is an Assistant Professor of Clinical Surgery at Weill Medical College of Cornell University.

Dr. Du received his medical degree from the School of Medicine at Beijing Medical University and his Ph.D. from New York Medical College, where he completed the Pathology program and graduated with honors. He is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery. He has nearly a dozen publications to his credit, including such journals as Journal of the American College of Surgery, Cytometry, and the International Journal of Oncology.

Dr. Du is fluent in Chinese (Mandarin). If you would like to meet Dr. Du and discuss a case, please contact him at 718-670-1097 or lid9035@nyp.org.
